AGENCY TRAINING POLICY

1. In order that the Central Intelligence Agency may carry out effectively the increasingly heavy and important requirements laid upon it by the National Security Council, the employees of this Agency must continue to improve and increase their professional knowledge and skills. All recent reports of inspecting committees have emphasized the role of proper and sufficient training in attaining this objective.

2. It is, therefore, the policy of this Agency that 5% of Headquarters "on-duty" personnel will be in a training status at all times.

3. ~~Personnel ceilings shall be adjusted by 30 June 1956 so as to authorize 5% fewer personnel generally in each Headquarters component with an additional allowance of up to 5% to cover personnel actually undergoing formal training.~~
